As a result, the team, under the support of BfD, has completed 12 interviews including 7 interviews from government institutions, 3 interviews from private sectors and 2 interviews from NGOs. Totally, there are 20 informants participated in our interviews.

However, the team met some difficulties as below

- The time for some interviews is very short (time constraint)
- Some informants seem not have true intention or willingness to share or answer our questions
- At least one organization was missed to make interview with due to their business even though we already made the appointment with them
- Overloaded working for team work, four to five interviews per day

In summary, the team has completed their mission as planned successfully by the arrangement date. We can conclude initially that the data collected is good and very useful for the project.
